

Starting this month, I am becoming bivocational. This is a move that is a longtime in the works. It makes financial sense for the church and sense for me. It will give me the chance to pursue other professional interests while staying engaged with the work of the church and in relationship with members and friends of the congregation.

It's a fluid situation that will undoubtedly change in the weeks and months to come, but for now my role at the church will remain pretty much the same with one notable exception. Going forward there will be weeks when Sunday morning gatherings are planned and led by other voices. Some of them may be discussion based, others might include a video, there may be times when one of our members shares a story about how faith has shaped their life or experience, there could be weeks when we gather together for a Sunday morning service project. There's lots of potential options that are really only limited by our imagination.

I'll still be there most weeks — leading, sharing my reflections, hopefully creating a welcoming space where we can engage God's goodness together. I will also continue to prioritize spending time sitting down with those of you who want to talk — either about a question you're facing or a challenge that's effecting you, your family, or your community.

If you have questions about how the new arrangement will look, let me know. I might not know the answer right away, but maybe we can figure it out together. Also, if you've got an idea about how we might arrange a Sunday morning gathering in the months to come, please share it with me or someone else from the leadership team.

Pastor Peter Morris

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING
SUNDAY, JUNE 19TH after Worship

All are welcome and encouraged to attend an Arbor Covenant Congregational Meeting on the date above. The Leadership Team will update us on the status of the sale of our property and building to Commonwealth Development. In addition, we will discuss Pastor Peter's transition to part-time status, our financial status, collaborative efforts with other partners and elect new members to the Leadership Team. Please join with us and add your voice to the discussions.

Tonight, beds will be empty.
Lunchboxes will be useless.
Sneakers will lay in the hallway, untouched.
And homes will never be the same.

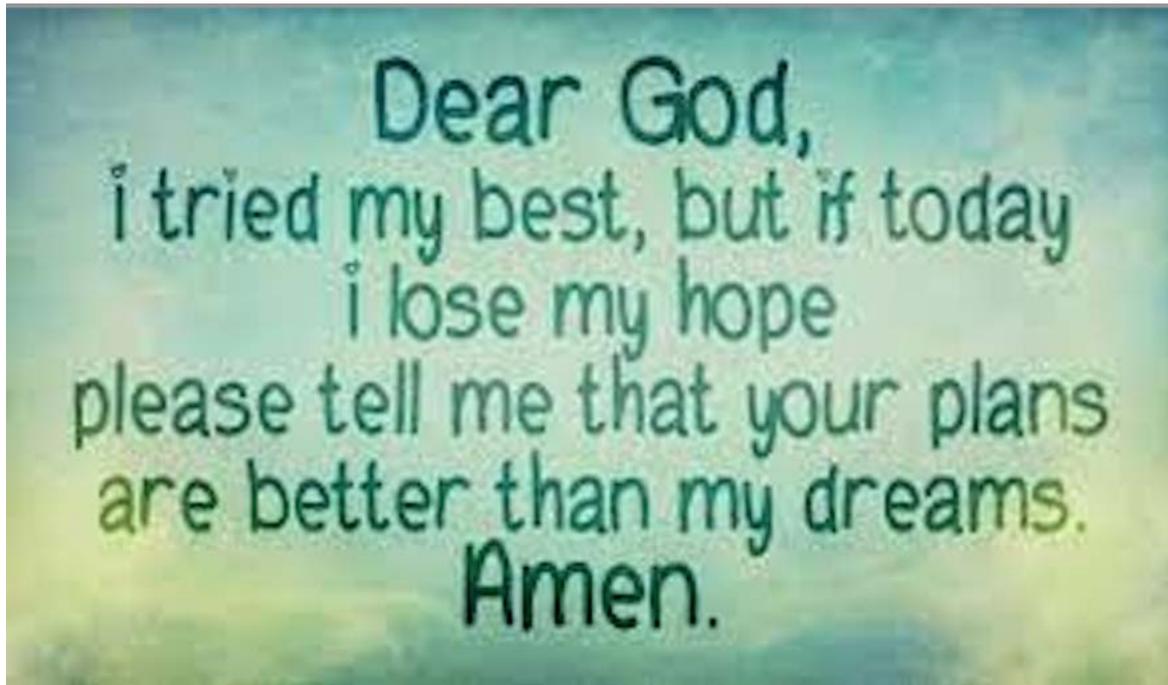

Pray for Uvalde.

Pray for the broken hearts of these moms & dads.
Pray for sisters or brothers who won't understand.

Oh, America. We are so tired.

Just pray.

Community Garden

The Community Garden is tilled and quite a bit of planting has been done. Volunteers are welcome to complete the planting and to help with the weeding and mulching. All of the garden plots have been reserved.

Sunday garden market is in the planning beginning Sundays after July 4.

Note from Ron

This morning I went over to check the garden and found the fence open and a couple of our long-eared friends (one just leaving and the other wandering around the plots) enjoying the morning inside the perimeter. Please make sure the gate is secured when you are finished for the day.

I have no doubt there may still be some holes in fence security and I've spent some time in the past couple of days trying to shore up places where rabbits and other critters may be getting in. Let me know if you do find them inside the garden - it lets me know I need to keep looking - and my apologies to any of you who have found (or may find) plants eaten.

Sympathy to Fabio Mora

Fabio Mora, a member of Arbor who is part of the Lund family, recently lost his brother Juan in Costa Rica. The death has been difficult for Fabio and the rest of the family. Please pray for him and everyone else affected by his brother's death.
